Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Chances of Death, Vol. 2 of 2: And Other Studies in Evolution When we seek to investigate the origins of such familiar institutions as ownership and matrimony, we rapidly discover that written history is itself the product of a stage of human development long posterior to that of the origins we are curious about. But bards and scalds are themselves an outcome of the heroic age - an age of warlike organisation and of petty chieftains, if not of kings; an age, indeed, when ownership and marriage have already a long history, and are of that patriarchal type which the Bible, if not Maurer or Maine, has made familiar to all of us.
